

Dell Hamby (Co-Instructor)

Dell Hamby began training Shotokan in 1988 in Switzerland and received 3rd Dan in 1995.

His interest in the origins of karate led him to Okinawa for the first time in 1996 where he began training Uechi Ryu / Shohei Ryu Karate under Sensei Shigeru Takamiyagi.

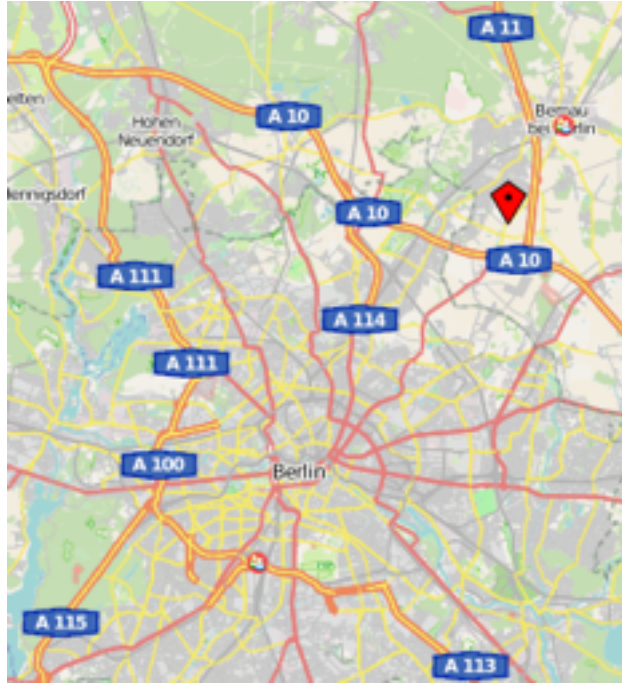

Since then Dell Hamby visited Okinawa every year for several weeks. He began training Kobudo in 1999 under Sensei Shigeo Izumi and later under Kaicho Hiroshi Akamine.

Dell Hamby holds a 5th Dan Shihan (master instructor) both in Uechi Ryu / Shohei Ryu Karate and in Ryukyu Kobudo.

Seminar May 14th - 17th, 2015

with

Hiroshi Akamine Kaicho

Hachidan, Ryukyu Kobudo

Hiroshi Akamine

Hiroshi Akamine was born in 1954 in Tomigusuku City, Okinawa Prefecture, as the fourth son to Eisuke Akamine, the second President of Ryukyu Kobudo Hozon Shinko Kai.

At the age of 6, he was given instruction in Karate by his father. He began his serious practice of Karate in his junior high school days. While he studied Karate under Shijin (old name for Hiroshi) Gushiken Sensei of Shorinryu Kyudokan, he learned Kobudo from his father.

In 1999, upon the passing of his father, he became the third president of Ryukyu Kobudo Hozon Shinko Kai, thus inheriting the organization.

In July 2011, with new determination, he established Ryukyu Kobudo Shimbukan based on the Shimbukan Dojo established by his father, Eisuke Akamine Sensei. At the same time, he assumed the position of President of Okinawa Shorinryu Mukenkai Association, which was established by Shijin (Hiroshi) Gushiken Sensei.

He has a number of dojos in and out of the Prefecture as well as in countries abroad. He continues to instruct on a regular basis.

At present, he holds Kyoshi hachi dan (8th degree black belt) of the Ryukyu Traditional Martial Arts and Kyoshi hachi dan (8th degree black belt) of Shorinryu Karate Do.
